MEMO TO: John Wasik, Chair
Planning Committee

FROM: Alex Ty Kovach, Director
Executive Director

RECOMMENDATION: Recommend approval of a Resolution for the Dedication of 366.1 Acres of Ethel's Woods Forest Preserve as an Illinois Nature Preserve.

STRATEGIC DIRECTIONS SUPPORTED: Conservation; Leadership

FINANCIAL DATA: The financial impact for this dedication is nominal and consists of staff time for boundary marking, preparation of a land management plan and submission of annual reports, as required by the Illinois Nature Preserve Commission, and is included as part of the adopted FY 2018/2019 Land Development Levy Fund Budget for Habitat Restoration (20104100-803200-60004). Long-term management will be funded by the Natural Resource Department annual operating budget.

BACKGROUND: Ethel's Woods is part of the Green Infrastructure Management and Strategy (GIMS) North Central Ecological Complex. The property that would be dedicated is part of the largest intact forest in northern Lake County. Dedication of this 366.1 acres is important for the protection of this critical natural community. State and federal grants have assisted the District in restoring the core forest block and the surrounding wetland, savanna and prairie communities. The forest core provides habitat for important nesting forest interior bird species including the brown creeper, wood thrush and a state-listed threatened species, the black-billed cuckoo. On property directly adjacent to Ethel's Woods, a bald eagle pair has nested. Several unique plants species including hepatica, blue cohosh, maiden hair fern and the state-listed threatened species, pale vetchling, are found in the proposed preserve. This forested block lies directly east of a large-scale stream (North Mill Creek) restoration project that will greatly enhance the forest, savanna, prairie and wetland communities at the preserve.

When the District dedicates property as an Illinois Nature Preserve, the District retains fee simple ownership of the property, but dedicates rights to the Illinois Nature Preserve Commission (INPC) in the nature of a negative easement, that gives the INPC a certain level of control over the property. For example, dedication will require the District to (i) prepare and receive approval from the INPC of a nature preserve management plan and a master plan for any improvements, (ii) mark boundaries, (iii) assign District staff as a custodian, and (iv) submit annual reports for the dedicated portion of the preserve. Future activities and structures not identified in an approved master plan (including access roads, trails, permits for research and collecting, easements, rights-of-way, entrance and interpretive signage, and any other structure and improvements) will be prohibited, unless approved by the INPC.

Under applicable statutes, a “nature preserve” is “a natural area . . . to be maintained as nearly as possible in its natural condition and to be used in a manner and under limitations consistent with its continued preservation, without impairment, disturbance or artificial development, for the public purposes of present and future scientific research, education, esthetic enjoyment and providing habitat for plant and animal species and communities and other natural objects.” 525 ILCS 30/3.11.

INPC requires that the District’s Board of Commissioners approve a resolution dedicating the property as an Illinois Nature Preserve before the INPC can consider this dedication proposal at its Commission meeting. Upon approval of the dedication by the INPC, a final instrument of dedication will be forwarded to the District.
